FBI Special Agent Janice Roberts

Janice Roberts, formerly a counselor for the Maryland Division of Corrections, has been an FBI Special Agent for eight years. In her own words, Special Agent Roberts tells us what working for the FBI is like.

On career satisfaction:

"One day I could be interviewing witnesses of a bank robbery and the next day I'm doing surveillance. There are so many different aspects about this job that I really like, and each day is unique, never a dull moment!"

On doing good for the community:

"The work we do has an incredible impact on our communities. To break up a major drug ring for example...keeping drugs off the street...that feels great."

On her most rewarding case:

"A couple of years ago, I was involved with a kidnapping case. The investigation took six months and covered ten states. It was rough going, but I'll never forget the expression on the mother's face when we returned her daughter."

On why others should consider a career at the FBI:

"If you want a job that's challenging and exciting, where every day you go home feeling good about your work and yourself, this is the place to be."
